Poker Alice

Poker Alice – Colorado's Gambling Gal

Alice Ivers, the poker faced, cigar chomping, lady gambler began her career in Lake City saloons. Born in England in 1851, Alice attended a select girls' academy prior to marrying Lake City mining engineer Frank Duffield.

After Frank was killed in a mine explosion, Alice briefly taught school and then turned to the green covered felt for her livelihood. During her career Alice opened a bordello where men could gamble and find female companionship.

She shot two men, one fatally.

On Sundays Alice would never deal cards nor allow her girls to entertain. This day was reserved for Sunday school lessons taught in a faint English accent. Such was the life of Poker Alice.
